1988 SWOSU spring semester student teachers

Student teaching which is the final step before Education majors graduate, does not, like any degree, come easily. Elementary, Secondary, and Elementary-Secondary majors have a long road ahead of them before they finally enter the classroom to teach. The road which ends in an education degree begins usually in high school since there is a minimum score which must be reached on their ACT. Besides having to complete the required English and speech courses with at least a "C" average along with an overall GPA of 2.5 the student must be accepted into the School of Education by interviewing before a committee. They also must have completed all of the required courses for their field besides the actual student teaching.

The student, after completing all of the specified requirements, then requests certain schools, which are contacted about allowing them to student teach. The students spend a total of 12 weeks in the classroom, working with the classes under the supervision of the consulting teacher who basically grades the student teacher. Also responsible for the grading is a committee which includes faculty from both the school where the teaching is done and SWOSU.

After the twelve weeks are completed, the student teacher can then apply for a one-year license after passing the certification test in their area. With the license they may then enter an internship program still under committee guidance.

SWOSU 14th Annual Expo Writing Contest to be held

By LISA DIBLER

Southwestern Oklahoma State University's 14th annual Expo Writing Contest, and impromptu writing contest for high school juniors and seniors, will be held Thursday, Feb. 25, beginning at 9 a.m., in the Student Center Ballroom on the Weatherford campus.

Students will be competing for scholarships of $150, $100 and $75, awarded through the Mary Hood Scholarship Fund. The scholarships will go toward tuition at Southwestern. Also, the top three finalists in each of the three divisions will receive medals.

No more than two contestants from each school can enter. Students will have two hours to write a 500-800 word paper on a subject which will be revealed at 9:30 a.m. on the day of Expo '88.

Teachers from each school are encouraged to attend also. While the students are writing their essays, the Southwestern Language Arts Department will host a workshop for English teachers who accompany their students to the campus.

Theme for this year's workshop is "Teaching the Advanced Student of Writing." Guest speakers at the workshop will include Nancy Goodwin of Clinton High School and Connie Sears of Minco High School.

Coordinator of Expo '88 is Rick Plant of the Southwestern faculty.

'Up With People' coming to perform at local school

By ALAYNA NEWTON

"If you want to have a great time, come and see Up with People," says Maggie Morford. "You won't regret it." Morford, a college senior from Topeka, Kansas, visited the Southwestern campus last Thursday, she is a performer with Up with People.

Up with People is an internationally known group that is made up of 110 young men and women from across the nation. Said Morford, "Some people think that Up with People is a group of kids that have nothing better to do than travel around and sing. But little do they know that Up with People is an educational program and that 60 percent of our members are actually college students who join Up with People for college credit. The University of Arizona is our sponsor and they provide us with college level classes on the road while we tour."

Up with People will be stopping in Weatherford as part of their world tour Saturday, Feb. 27. They will be performing their musical entitled "Time for the Music" in the Thompson Jr. High auditorium at 7:30 p.m. "Time for the Music" is made up of rock and internationally oriented songs. "College students will definitely like our contemporary rock style," stated Morford. "We have very talented performers in our group. In fact, it is quite an honor to be chosen to travel with Up with People. You must audition at least eighteen months in advance just to have a chance to be selected."

Tickets are now being sold at $5 (with I.D.) for students and $7 for adults. Tickets may be picked up at the Aardvark Video in the Weatherford Shopping Center and at the Weatherford Daily News office.

THOUGHTS

By DUKE SIMMONS

Hi faithful readers! It's the Dukester again with yet another edition of "Thoughts". Yes folks, once again you get to read my warped and twisted views of the world around us. I'd just like to take a second to thank you readers for the positive responses I've been getting. And as always, your input is greatly appreciated. And if you have someone that you would like to wish a happy birthday or anniversary just let me know and I'll try to put it in my column. So happy late birthday to Jessica, our yearbook editor, and to my buddy Joey, you opera geek.

And speaking of geeks, I used to always make fun of the guys that were in band and music by calling them "bandies", "band fags", and "song birds". I mean, only girls sing, right? Well folks, since my tremendous acting ability got me a part in the musical, "Little Mary Sunshine", I have been forced to work with a whole bunch of these so called "music geeks". In fact, I'm the only guy in the play that can't sing. Anyway, working with the music people has made me see that the guys that major in music aren't men suffering from a chronic Oedipus complex and they aren't homosexual just because they sing or are in band. They're really a swell bunch of guys and I've made a lot of great friends that sing. Watch, now everybody will think I'm a fag. Just kidding!

And speaking of the play "Little Mary Sunshine", I was really impressed by the set and the costumes, all except one of mine. One of my costumes is made of brown velvet. Who had the brilliant idea to make an Indian costume out of brown velvet. I guess the costume company had to steal someone's seat covers to get the material.

I went out to "Zaks" last Thursday and found out the parking lot and my complexion have a lot in common. I haven't seen that many bumps and holes since the last time I ran out of "Clearasil".

I spilled a cup of coffee on myself as I was writing this, and it brought back memories of last semester when a friend of mine spilled a cup of coffee from the Student Union all over me. Now all you readers that have actually tasted the coffee from the Student Union know that it is just a little strong. Well, not only did the coffee blister my whole body but it left me smelling like essence of "Maxwell House". Now don't get me wrong, I like the coffee at the Student Union. It just smelled pretty strong after it dried on my clothing and I wound up with Mrs. Olsen and Juan Valdez following me around all over campus.

And speaking of Juan Valdez, are we really supposed to believe that he hand picks all those coffee beans? No wonder they have so many people out of work in Columbia.

Well, that's it for this week. Until the next issue, be kind to music majors and register to vote.

GROUP REVIEW

By JERRY HAYES

There are quite a few groups I never have time to review. For a change, I'm going to give a basic run down over some recent and not-so-recent releases. The way I want to do this is give the album title with the name of the group, then name a few of the more notable songs on it, and give it a score from 1 to 10, with 1 being pretty bad and 10 being the best I'll give. Here it goes.

Prince, 'Sign 'O The Times'

Prince has put out some fantastic songs in his career. I don't think I would like him as a person, but as an artist, he is in a class all his own. Some of my favorite Prince songs from the past include "When Doves Cry", "Let's Go Crazy", "1999", and "Little Red Corvette". 'Sign 'O The Times' adds more good songs to his list. "U Got The Look" is an excellent dance song while "I Could Never Take The Place of Your Man" is one of the more original songs around today. My only real problem is he gets weird on me again. Remember "Darling Nikki"? Well, he does it again. If you get the tape you'll know what I mean. In all I give "Sign 'O The Times" a 7 point 5.

Triumph, 'Survalence'

Triumphs last effort, "A Sport of Kings" kind of went commercial. I like the music very well, but it wasn't what I expected from Triumph. "Somebody's Out There" and "Don't Love Anyone Else but Me" were done, it seems to increase sales. If you are a true Triumph fan, you were probably disappointed. If you were, you'll love 'Survalence.' It goes back to what they do best and what many know them for. If you get this, expect more of the 'Thunder Seven' sound and less of the 'Sport of Kings.' Two ratings for this. If you like 'new' Triumph, give it a 6.5. If you like old Triumph, 8.

MSG, 'Perfect Timing'

While MSG is not really a 'new' group, success has finally found them. "Give Me Your Love" is a great song with distinctive guitars and rough vocals. Other good songs include "Here Today, Gone Tomorrow", "Follow the Night", and "I Don't Want to Lose". I give 'Perfect Timing' a 7.5.

Eurithymics, ?

Don't know the name of the new album, don't care. "I Need a Man" is hard to rate because of the screaming at the beginning. I've tried to listen to the whole thing, I really have. If you can stand it, listen to the words and have a good laugh. She might have something to say, but next time she can drop me a postcard. I give it a -1.

Michael Jackson update:

Songs from 'Bad' are being released left and right. "Bad," "I Just Can't Stop Loving You," "The Way You Make Me Feel" and his new one, "Man in the Mirror". None of these is going to the top and staying for any length of time, as with "Thriller". I heard "Thriller" on the radio the other day and realized I miss the originality of the album when compared to "Bad".

I tied various firecrackers to 'Thriller' and watched it go up in smoke. I will have a hard time figuring out how to beat that when I destroy "Bad". Has anyone ever micro-waved a cassette?

Good looks calendar raises funds for good cause

By BETH KING

Good looks for a good cause. The Alpha Gamma Delta "Calendar of Men" came out Feb. 15. The calendar is being sold by the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority to raise money for their philanthropy, International Juvenile Diabetes.

"The Alpha Gamma Delta chapter is very proud to support a national charity. It is a rewarding and satisfying feeling, knowing we can contribute. This calendar is a small part of a great regard to helping other individuals throughout the nation as well as the state. One of our purposes is to help others and we're proud to be a part of something like this," said Becky Bond, vice-president in charge of scholarship, for the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

This is the fifth year that the calendar has been put out in order to raise money for the foundation. The men featured on the different months are actual male students who attend SWOSU. The pictures were taken in various settings around campus by Jerry Hayes, a photographer from Clinton.

The process for choosing the 'Men' is complex, as the sorority members and initiates begin in the Fall looking for what they consider the best looking and cutest guys on campus. When they spot what they consider a possible 'man of the month' they approach him and ask for his address. He is then sent an invitation to a 'get to know you' party where the other members meet and then vote on the top men. Out of the 35 to 40 men invited, only 12 are needed. They are notified a week later if they were chosen.

When asked how they felt about being in the calendar, Nick Sprowls and David Sparks agreed that they were honored by being asked even to the party and the fact that the money earned from the sales would go to a worthy cause makes it even more special. The 1988 "Men of Southwestern" are Brac Brown, Kevin Morse, Quint Nicholas, Nick Sprowls, Clay Perry, Aaron Weast, Darren Riggs, David Sparks, Don Richards, Bret Brown, Bret Cabiness, and Kevin Harman.

The calendars are on sale now but there is a limited number. They can be purchased for $3 from any member or pledge, or at the Alpha Gamma Delta house, 224 W. College (across from Neff Hall), 772-9070.

BSU represented at Student Mission Conference

Approximately thirty students from the Baptist Student Union at SWOSU will be attending the Student Missions Conference at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Ft. Worth, Texas, March 4-6. This annual event attracts 800 to 900 students from across Tex., Okla., La., Ark., and N.M. Some attend from as far away as Ariz. and Miss.

The theme for this years conference is "Love in Any Language". The program will feature outstanding speakers, a dramatic theme interpretation, and several missionary testimonies.

An added feature is the opportunity to meet in small groups to gain information about mission work around the world and the various types of ministries and job opportunities.

The cost for the weekend is $10 pre-registration, which must be paid before leaving, and approximately 5 meals. The larger part of the group will be leaving at about 11:00 a.m. on March 4 with a car available for those who must go later. Those wishing to attend should pre-register at the BSU office. Anyone is welcome to attend.

By CHRIS BUSTER

Tobacco has been around since the beginning of time and will be with us until the end of time.

It is estimated that at least twelve million people in the United States used a form of snuff in 1985. A number of studies have shown that nicotine exposure from smoking, dipping, and chewing can cause an addiction in humans. In the early 80's, smoking was one of the major health hazards.

A recent poll was taken on the campus of Southwestern to see how many of the students used tobacco, out of 154 students over half said "yes."

Of the 18 and 19 year olds that were asked, 79 percent of the males said yes, they used tobacco. Of those who said yes, 33 percent smoke and the rest dip or chew. Among the females that replied, 35 percent said they had tried tobacco and most of them do smoke.

From the 20 and 21 year old males, 36 percent smoke in addition, 27 percent dip, with a very impressive 37 percent saying that they had never tried a form of tobacco. Among the females 47 percent do smoke, with an even higher 53 percent saying they have never tried it.

Polls showed that of males ranging from 21 to 34: 38 percent smoke, and 54 percent of the women in the same age group smoke.

The overall survey confirmed that 85 students of 154 have tried tobacco. When asked if they were ever scared of getting cancer, 32 students said yes. Less than half of the students who used tobacco at one time or another were worried about cancer.

The surgeon general has published the fact that smoking is a major cause of cancer. In 1979 it was considered the single most important preventable environmental factor contributing to illness disability and death in the U.S. Most non-smokers also said they were annoyed by cigarettes.

Out of the 159 students, only 69 of them said they never used tobacco.

Play brings laughs

Duke Simmons and Robby Cox brought the stage to life with the production of GREATER TUNA that was presented Feb. 16.

The actors shared the spotlight as both Simmons and Cox portrayed twenty different characters. When asked the most difficult task dealing with a play of this style Cox replied, "Keeping the character voices down and the quick costume changes brought about a few minor problems." Cox went on to say that he enjoyed working with his co-star Duke Simmons. "I believe Duke and I work well together. As actors you have to know each other's strengths and weaknesses and we played off of each others strengths. That is what determines a good performance, how well you know your co-star," stated Cox.

Simmons has natural ability for the stage, stated the director,

Mary McCauley. Although GREATER TUNA may not have been Simmons' best performance, he always does his best with what he has to work with. McCauley concluded that both actors did a fine job with their numerous parts and successfully brought the fictional town of Tuna, Texas to the stage of SWOSU.

Students that viewed the play enjoyed the 2-act comedy. Dipty Patel, a senior pharmacy student stated that being able to take a study break and go to the theatre was both relaxing and amusing. Freshman Shonna McPhail of Duncan says, "GREATER TUNA was the first production I've attended here at SWOSU. I didn't realize that play productions were put on regularly. I enjoyed a "night at the theatre" and will definitely go and see more shows."

Fiftieth Anniversary Planned For Sayre Campus

Announcement and plans for the observance of the Fiftieth Anniversary of higher education in Sayre are underway. The Anniversary Committee, chaired by Mrs. Ruth Atterberry, said that a special invitation is being extended to everyone, and especially former presidents, faculty, personnel and students, to return and join the college in this memorable occasion.

To be held in conjunction with the local high school alumni celebration, April 2, the event will be highlighted with a parade, luncheon and reception.

Registration begins Friday evening, April 1, at the high school gym where the college bookstore will have a booth set up with college memorabilia for sale. At this time also the Sayre High School Alumni organization will sponsor a supper and an alumni basketball game with teams divided by odd and even years.

Saturday morning, registration will continue from 8:30 until the parade at 10:30. The Student Senate float is being readied and other college entries are requested, the committee chairman said.

At noon college guests will be seated at special tables and recognized at the luncheon at the Sayre Grade School Cafetorium.

Following this program, an open house and reception is scheduled at the college from 2 to 4 p.m. In addition to refreshments, there will be a display featuring old photos, yearbooks and newspapers--plus an opportunity to visit with former college friends and personnel.

One of the special guests returning will be college founder, Oscar McMahan, El Paso, Tex. McMahan was superintendent of the Sayre schools from 1937 to 1942 and served as the first president of the college.

Arch Alexander, who served as president from 1954 to 1965, also plans to return for the celebration. Alexander now lives in Stillwater and has retired after 19 years as the Deputy State Director of the Oklahoma State Department of Vocational and Technical Education.

Sayre residents, Mrs. Maurine Fails, Harry Patterson and Paul Conner, will also be present. Mrs. Fails began teaching accounting for the college in 1946.

She became dean when Alexander left that position to serve in the Korean War. When Alexander returned as president, Mrs. Fails became Registrar. She retired in 1977 after 31 years with the college.

Patterson was president from 1965 to 1984. Conner served from 1984 until the college merged with Southwestern Oklahoma State University in August 1987.

Founded in 1938 under the name of Oklahoma Western Junior College, the institution was known as Sayre Junior College until the merger.

100 Apply For Graduation

The registrar has received 100 applications from students planning to graduate in May. Registrar Pat Tignor reminds students that they must file an Application to Graduate if they have not already done so.

Mrs. Tignor ask that each student check this list carefully to see that his or her name appears, that it is spelled exactly as it should be on the diploma, and that it is listed under the correct degree.

Any errors should be reported to Mrs. Tignor immediately.

1987 Season proves successful for baseball team

It was a banner year in 1987 for Southwestern baseball and a year which will not be forgotten by Southwestern baseball followers. It was April 21, 1987, and Southwestern was hosting Southeastern in an Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference (OIC) doubleheader. The Bulldogs needed only one win to clinch their first OIC championship under head coach Larry Geurkink. Southeastern had won the OIC title the past 12 years.

After losing the first game 4-2, the Bulldogs were knotted 4-4 with Southeastern in the bottom of the 10th inning of the second game. Southwestern outfielder Bob DeCelle was on second base with Kelly Gaunt at the plate. Gaunt calmly stepped up to the plate and hit a line-drive single to center field to score DeCelle and give Southwestern a 5-4 victory and the OIC championship.

Pandemonium broke out on Williams Field as the Bulldogs celebrated.

The celebration continued as the Bulldogs continued their winning ways and advanced to the NAIA District Nine playoffs. After defeating Central State in the first round, the Bulldogs advanced to the "final four" at Norman where the Bulldogs finished as district champion runnerup.

Southwestern ended the season with an impressive 45-17 record.

Yes, 1987 was an exciting season, but what about 1988?

"We're not going to be as talented as last year---we lost some good athletes who will be hard to replace," 12th year coach Geurkink said but added, "I feel we should have a pretty good team."

Pitching, the outfield and the catcher position should be the Bulldog strengths, while the big question mark is the Bulldogs' infield. Hitting-wise, there are around nine Bulldogs who can swing the bat.

Pitching should be an asset for the Bulldogs in 1988. Geurkink has an experienced staff and he will be counting on five seniors and one junior to lead the way.

Tom Zahller had a 12-5 record last season. The competitive Omaha, NB, native won several big games for the Bulldogs last season, and Geurkink will be counting on him once again. Tom Schreiber of Cashion was 9-4 in 1987 and is the junior of the bunch. Both Zahller and Schreiber are considered two of the better pitchers in the district.

Roydon Tilley of Sand Springs was the Bulldogs' ace relief man last season. He had eight saves and pitched very well in several big games. Phil Guerra, of Hennessey has been at the Weatherford school for four years and should be a solid performer. Blanchard's Kevin James, who was a walk-on as a freshman, and Weatherford's Pat Geurkink, the coach's son, are both seniors who round out the top six pitchers for the Bulldogs.

"We don't have anybody who is overpowering, but all these kids know what it takes to win," Geurkink said.

Jimmy Brown, a redshirt freshman pitcher from Burns Flat, looked good in fall practice. Also, Neal Acosta, a junior from Woodward, and Don Caffey, a redshirt freshman from Hennessey, are in Geurkink's arsenal. In time, freshman Darren Hunt of Mustang and Andy Eckstein of Enid could be good pitchers.

Another strong point for the Bulldogs is the outfield. DeCelle, a senior from Oklahoma City Putnam City who has been an all-district player, is a returning starter at right field. He hit .322 and was third in team hits with 67 last season. Nicky Scalf, an Altus junior, is also a returning starter at left field. Scalf is playing with more confidence and is considered a talented athlete. In center field, Geurkink will have either Mike Wilson, a Cleveland transfer from Carl Albert Junior College, or Brian Miller of Altus. Wilson is a good defensive player but his hitting is a question mark. Miller, who was a shortstop in high school, is probably a better hitter than Wilson.

Gone from last year's team is the entire starting infield which, at most times, played error-free ball. Geurkink is concerned that last year's seniors will be replaced by young or inexperienced players this season.

At first base, junior Charlie Hearrell of Yukon and senior David Hajny of Taloga will split time. Both have been around the Bulldog program for several years. Kevin Thompson, a transfer from Connors Junior College, is projected as the starter at second base. He is a smart, talented player who has good hands. Greg Taylor, a redshirt freshman from Clinton, should be at shortstop while Dean Hodge, a Moore transfer from El Reno Junior College, is at third.

Eric Stephens of Mustang transferred to Southwestern from Oklahoma State University and Geurkink expects him to help out at second base. Also, Clint Roles, a redshirt freshman from Weatherford, should help out even though Geurkink has not decided on a position for him.

At catcher, Geurkink is pleased with both Quint Nichols and Kevin Harmon. Nichols, a part-time starter last year, is tough behind the plate and is also a good hitter. The fifth-year senior from Elk City handles pitchers very well. Harmon, a senior from Marlow, is also a hard worker and Geurkink is pleased with his ability at catcher.

"We have some talent but not what we had last season," Geurkink said about the 1988 Bulldogs. "We could show up last year and win. This year we'll have to play hard at all times."

As usual, the Bulldogs will face a tough schedule in 1988. In addition to the NAIA District Nine opponents, the 'Dogs will host Emporia State KS, national champion runnerup last season. Also, for the second year in a row, the Bulldogs will take a spring break trip to Arizona where they will meet tough foes Mesa, Co; Grand Canyon, AZ; and Western New Mexico.

It will be hard to match the excitement of last season but, of course, the 1988 Bulldogs will sure try.

Victory over Northeastern leaves Lady 'Dawgs' ranked 7th

By PATRICE MALPHUS
The three senior lady 'Dawgs' led their team to a 54 to 51 victory over Northeastern on Feb. 20. SWOSU started off slowly and weren't playing with the enthusiasm and aggressiveness they usually have giving Northeastern the edge they needed to lead 28 to 27 at the half.

In the middle of the second half the lady 'Dawgs' took charge enough to bring the score up to the winning 54 to 51 points. The leading scorers of the game were:

Sharon Blair, Patrice Malphus, and Stephanie Wyatt, each with 12 points. Sharon Blair had 10 rebounds. The lady 'Dawgs' are 20-4 overall, 5-1 in the OIC, and 7th in the nation. The lady 'Dawgs' will play the East Central lady Tigers tonight at 6:00 p.m. in the 'Dawg' house.

SWOSU vs. East Central tonight

Southwestern will play its final regular season home basketball games tonight (Wednesday) when East Central comes to Weatherford for 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. contests. Both the women's and men's contests will be important ones for both schools, since all teams are involved in the chase for a playoff spot.

Southwestern's Lady Bulldogs have already clinched a playoff spot, but the Lady Bulldogs are battling for the top seed. East Central's women, who are fifth in the district ratings this week, should be in the playoffs but are hoping for the highest-possible seed.

As for the men, East Central and Southwestern are ninth and 10th, respectively, in the latest District Nine ratings. Only the top eight teams qualify for the playoffs so, by common sense alone, one can see that tonight's men's contest is a pivotal match-up.

Southwestern and East Central met last week in Ada. The Lady Bulldogs won, 72-65, while the Bulldogs fell, 37-35, in a slow-down meeting.

Next week, the playoffs begin. Southwestern's women will be hosting a first round contest on Monday night at 7 p.m. Semifinals and finals are scheduled for next Wednesday and Friday, respectively, on the home courts of the highest-ranked teams. The Lady Bulldogs, most likely, will host a semifinal game unless they fall in the first round.

The men's playoffs begin next Thursday. If Southwestern makes the final eight, the Bulldogs will be on the road in the first round.

In action this past Saturday, Southwestern had two nailbiters, the Lady Bulldogs defeated Northeastern, 54-51, and the Bulldogs edged Northeastern, 87-84, in overtime.

In the women's contest,

Southwestern's Kim Golden hit a jumper with 40 seconds remaining to give the Lady Bulldogs a 52-51 lead. Then, Northeastern's Kolette Jones missed a 20-footer with 10 seconds remaining. Southwestern's Dena Phelps rebounded and was fouled with four seconds remaining. Phelps calmly hit two freethrows to give the Lady Bulldogs a 54-51 win.

In the men's game, Southwestern played a terrific first half and led at halftime. The 'Dogs shot 75% from the field in the first 20 minutes of action. But, the Redmen rallied in the second half and Michael Obaseki's tip-in with four seconds remaining tied the game at 75 all and sent the game into overtime. Southwestern's Stephen Joseph connected on a jumper with 20 seconds remaining in OT to give the 'Dogs an 86-84 lead. Robert Nash then added a freethrow with four seconds remaining to give the Bulldogs an 87-84 win.

Lady 'Dawgs' lose close battle with Northwestern

By PATRICE MALPHUS

On February 17, the number 7 nationally ranked lady bulldogs had a heartbreaking 68 to 65 loss to the Northwestern lady Rangers in front of a crowd of 2,056. SWOSU beat the lady Rangers on January 27 here at Southwestern.

The lady 'Dawgs' were scoreless the first two minutes of the game while the lady Rangers hit four baskets in a row. SWOSU finally put down the first two with 18 minutes and 40 seconds on the clock. Coach John Loftin was escorted out of the gym after receiving three technical fouls with 12 minutes 28 seconds left in the first half. Assistant Coach Kelli Litsch then took over. The lady 'Dawgs' finally got their heads up while trailing by twelve, and stormed back to lead at the half 37 to 33.

Through the second half the score was close because each side scored consistently. The lady 'Dawgs' moved ahead, but turned the ball over three times in a row and fouled, giving Northeastern time to come back 66 to 65. After that the lady Rangers stayed on top by sinking free throws.

The leading scorers were Sharon Blair with 24 points and 14 rebounds, Stephanie Wyatt with 19 points, and Patrice Malphus with 10.

The lady 'Dawgs' played Monday, Feb. 15 against East central and won 72 to 65. The leading scorers in the game were Sharon Blair with 24 points and 13 rebounds, Stephanie Wyatt with 15 points, Patrice Malphus with 13 points and 9 rebounds, and Kim Golden with 12 points. The lady 'Dawgs' are 19-4 overall and 4-1 in the OIC.

Library acknowledges 20 years

By BETH KING

The Al Harris Library celebrated its grand opening in 1968. The library is now 20 years old and has grown just like the minds who have spent countless hours pondering on the knowledge made available to them through it. Open to all students, faculty, and area residents, the library has grown consistently over the years.

In its first year the library was made up of 92,245 bound volumes and has grown to where it now has 229,286 volumes available for use. The microfilm library has also grown throughout the past years. Subscriptions to different periodicals varying in subjects have more than doubled as there are now 1,537 subscriptions compared to the 762 in 1968.

The main objective for the library is to be a service organization to further the educational aims of the college. The library, through its different departments, works together as a team in order to make the library run smoothly as if they were all a part of one big team trying to reach one unified goal. This goal is to support the courses and instruction taught on campus by making the necessary materials reading available as well as stimulating individual reading and research in a wide variety of fields.

Acquisitions, Serials, Cataloging, Circulation, and Reference, are all different types of departments contained within the library with a chairman in each department. The different departments interact with one another in order to provide the most information on any certain subject as the different topics often overlap into other departments. All of the current librarians hold degrees of Master of Library Science and an ALA accredited library school. Continuing education workshops and professional meetings are also attended so that they may be kept current in the skills necessary to serve those using the library.

Students from Southwestern play a big part in the operation of the library as they do what they can in assisting with finding information, checking in and out materials, and reshelving books and magazines. The library's hours are 7:30 a.m. Monday through Thursday, 7:30 to 5 p.m. on Friday, Saturday, 2 to 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. until 10 p.m. on Sundays.
